

Page 1 - Executive Summary

StratCore Consulting was engaged by TelecomCo in January 2025 to assess readiness for Generative AI adoption. The engagement was led by Sarah Chen with support from Michael Rodriguez and David Park. Objectives included AI use cases across customer service, network operations, and knowledge management. Deliverables included an Executive Strategy Deck, Target Architecture Blueprint, and 18-Month AI Implementation Roadmap.

Page 2 - Current State Assessment

TelecomCo operates Azure Cloud, Snowflake, and Salesforce CRM. Knowledge repositories are fragmented across business units. Customer service and network operations maintain separate documentation systems, creating knowledge silos and duplication.

Page 3 - AI Readiness Framework

The engagement leveraged StratCore's AI Readiness Framework across Data Quality, Governance, Talent, Technology, and Change Management. Michael Rodriguez interviewed Emma Wilson, Robert King, and Alicia Morgan.

Page 4 - Use Case Identification

Identified opportunities included Customer Service Copilot, Network Operations Assistant, and Enterprise Search Platform. The Enterprise Search Platform was sponsored by Robert King.

Page 5 - Target Architecture

Recommended technologies included Azure OpenAI, Databricks, Neo4j, and Snowflake. David Park designed the architecture supporting GraphRAG and hybrid retrieval.

StratCore recommended a knowledge graph connecting Projects, Experts, Deliverables, Clients, and Technologies. The recommendation was informed by lessons from Project Orion.

Page 7 - Implementation Roadmap

Phase 1: Foundation. Phase 2: Knowledge Graph Deployment. Phase 3: Enterprise AI Assistants.
Sarah Chen approved the roadmap.

Page 8 - Vendor Evaluation

Microsoft, Databricks, and OpenAI were evaluated. Microsoft was selected as the preferred cloud partner.

Page 9 - Risk Assessment

Key risks included data quality, knowledge silos, and change resistance. Mitigation plans were authored by Michael Rodriguez.

Page 10 - Final Recommendations

TelecomCo should establish an AI Center of Excellence, Enterprise Knowledge Graph, and Unified Document Repository. Final delivery date: June 30, 2025.
